WRITING

From: Brunelintseva A.
To: editor of school magazine

Hello

I write you to say that I want to write an article on the following topic: Today's television: „A load of old rubbish” or „More choice than ever before”? Is today's television still good value for money? I think, that there is very actually for our present life.

First of all, we waste hundreds of our hour sitting in front of TV in the evening. We see many useless shows, for example sitcom serials or shows like a „Comedy Club”, but we find it interesting. For what we do that? Maybe we should relax after hard day.

So, we can find programmes which we should see seldom. It can be news. News can help us understand a picture of real life for today. Or we can see programmes that can help us to studying something new. Also, I love programmes about travelling. I find that programmes very interesting.

In the end, I should say, that we have the high quality of TV programmes today, but many of that programmes is absolutely useless for us.
