WRITING

"Today's television: is it worth it?" 1700 w

Hello! Today we shall cover a very popular topic: Today's television? As we all know nearly every household in the world has a TV, But why? It's simple, having a TV at home allows you to have entertainment that doesn't require much activity, and it's easier than books, but that's just stating the obvious.

I've been asked is today's television is nothing more than old rubbish, ~~is it~~ Does it ~~have~~ have a stronger variety than before? Is it worth the money? Let's share our opinions! As we all know the TV started to spread around the 20th ^{century}, but it was nothing more than some shows and propaganda in the face of news. Nowadays we have a stronger variety of shows and less propaganda on the news. But what should we watch? I think the best choice is documentaries, anything else has such low quality that it's not worth it. The quality has dropped with the increasing amount of shows, so the quantity is the only thing ~~that~~ that's rubbish. The TV nowadays is not worth it, because the internet is far more efficient. 77
